

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, July 6. 1703

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 14.

Vienna, June 30.

ONE Standard and 5 Colours are brought hither, taken from the Hungarian Rebels, who are all dispers'd. To day Count Mansfeld laid down the Presidentship of the Council of War, being made Great Chamberlain; Prince Eugene of Savoy is made President of the Council of War in his stead, notwithstanding which, 'tis said, that Prince will return to Italy to command the Imperial Army, and that during his Absence Count Heyster will officiate as President of the said Council; Count Gundacker of Staremberg is made President of the Treasury in the Room of Count Salaburg. There is no likelihood that the King of the Romans will take the Field this Year. The Bank that is newly set up here meets with good Success, several hundred thousand Florins being already subscrib'd to it. Duke Joseph of Lorraine will set out next Week for the Army in Italy.

From the Camp of Prince Lewis of Baden at Hondenheim, July 5. To day the Margrave of Bareith is expected here with several 1000 Men; when he is arriv'd we shall make some Attempt on the Enemy (who is well intrench'd,) having in order to it already laid a Bridge over the Danube.

Heylbronn, June 6. On the 3d above 6000 Men of the Troops commanded by the Margrave of Bareith pass'd through Monheim, Gantsenhause and Ottingen, to joyn the Army of the Prince of Baden, which having broke up from Gundelfingen is encamp'd at Hondenheim, Wittefingen and Schabringen, within half a League of the French Army commanded by the Marshal de Villars. 4 Regiments of Horse of the Elector Palatine arriv'd yesterday at Neckerau over against Mannheim. The 5000 Danes who were advanc'd to Bohemia, are, 'tis said, fallen into the Upper Palatinate and have put the Country under Contribution. Near Donawert the Hussars have cut off 200 Bavarians.

Frankfort, July 8. The French Army is broke up from Langenscheidel and mov'd towards Fort Louis and Hagenau. 'Tis said the Duke of Burgundy is already arriv'd at Strasburg incognito, and from thence will return to Paris. The Dutch and other Auxiliary Troops are Pested at and between Strohofen and Philipsburg. The Elector of Bavaria, as 'tis reported, is returning from Tirol to joyn the Marshal de Villars.

Berlin, July 8. They write from Lublin, that the proceedings of the Diet hitherto, are in favour of the King of Poland; that the Cardinal Primate arriv'd there on the 25th; that his Eminency immediately demanded a private Audience of the King; but that the Grandees had dissuaded His Majesty from it, and mov'd that he should first ask Pardon for his Intrigues with the Swedes, and that he should take a new Oath of Allegiance to the King; which, for fear of the lesser Nobility, the Cardinal has resolv'd to comply with.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 12.

Hanover, June 6. Mr. Crescet the English Envoy has had his Audience of leave; his Lady demanded it likewise, (as is usually practis'd in France) but it was refus'd her. It is given out, that the Prince of Saxe-Zeits has talk'd publickly in Franckfort, that the Alliance between the Emperor and the Duke of Savoy is actually concluded, and that the Count d'Aversberg is gone to Turin with the Ratification.

Basil, June 30. Letters from Lyons of the 26th Advise, that the Camisards had affix'd Advertisements on the Trees about Obessarques near Ulez, forbidding the payment of Tithes; Whereupon Monsieur Gevaudan march'd thither with 5 Troops of Dragoons to look after the Persons concern'd in that matter; but was so well receiv'd by a Party of Malecontents, that he return'd but with half a Troop, the other 4 and half being kill'd on the spot.

Letters from Paris of the 26th, by the way of Lorraine say, that Monsieur de Chateauneuf is set out from thence on his Embassy to the Court of Portugal, to relieve Monsieur de Rouiller.

From the Army of the Allies commanded by the Duke of Marlborough, encamp'd at Vorselaer, July 12. On the 9th the Duke of Marlborough, accompanied by the Hereditary Prince of Hesse, the Count de Noyelles, Monsieur Dopf, Monsieur Scholten, and Monsieur Buleau, all Lieutenant Generals, went to Breda, and lay that Night at Lieutenant General Salisch's. On the 10th in the Morning, his Grace went to Bergen op Zoom, to confer with the Deputies of the States, and the Generals of the other Army, about the further Operations of the Campaign: His Grace was entertain'd at Dinner by the said Deputies; in the Afternoon had a Conference with them and the General Officers; and yesterday in the Evening return'd hither. The Enemy march'd out of their Lines on the 7th, (being the same day our Army came to this ground,) to Sondhoven, and have since made a small movement to St. Jop where they are now encamp'd. A Party of Horse being sent out on the 10th under Major General Rantzaw to observe the Enemy who were Foraging, met with part of their Forrage Guard, whereof 2 Captains and 18 Troopers with their Horses were taken.

Hague, July 12. The Heers Merens, Zallick, and Geldermassen, their High Mightinesses Deputies, having held a Conference at Bergen op Zoom with the Generals of the Armies, are return'd hither, and have given an Account of it to the States. The Heers Witsen, Alua, and other Deputies, appointed to go into the Field, will shortly set out for the Grand Army. The Prince of Nassau, Hereditary Stadtholder of Friseland, is arriv'd at the Army at Vorselaer, in order to make the Campaign as a Volunteer under the Duke of Marlborough; in his Way from Maestricht to the Camp he narrowly escap'd being taken by the Enemy near Peer.

Hague

Shields, July 1. Here are arrived about 100 Sail of Merchant Ships for Russia, and about 200 Sail of Light Colliers under Convoy of 8 Men of War, last from Yarmouth Roads; The Colliers came into this Port; but the Ships that were in this Harbour joyned the rest of the Russia Fleet, and are all Sail'd under Convoy of 6 Men of War: The other 2 are to stay till 2 more come, and then to be Convoys to the Ships for the East Country. The Solebay is also Sailed for Linn, and near 100 Sail of Colliers took the opportunity of her Company in order for London and the Coast.

Falmouth, July 1. Yesterday there was heard great shooting upon the Sea, and towards Evening we heard that it was an Engagement between the Orford and a French Privateer of 18 Guns and 110 Men, call'd the Young Man, which this Morning she brought into this Port. The same day the Mountague Man of War brought in a French Privateer of 36 Guns 6 Pattareroes and 240 Men, call'd the Philip. Both these were Privateers of St. Malo's newly built, having not been above 10 or 12 days at Sea, and had made no Purchase.
